

THIS WEEK PRESENTED BY LOOKOUT LENDING · SAMPLE SPONSOR

The Chattanooga Move

Homes, neighborhoods & the business of living in the Scenic City

ISSUE 001 · JUNE 2026 · Free, sponsor-supported · A Brief Scout Media newsletter

Welcome to The Chattanooga Move. Every other Tuesday we make sense of buying, selling, and settling in the Scenic City — what's selling, where to look, and what it actually feels like to live in each neighborhood.

A quick, honest note on how this works: The Move is free because sponsors pay for it — and we label every placement, every time. It's the deliberate opposite of our sister publication, The Scenic City Insider, which takes no ads at all. Two newsletters, two honest models, same belief that you deserve to know who's paying. Let's get into it.

MARKET PULSE · HAMILTON COUNTY · ILLUSTRATIVE FIGURES

$XXX,000 median sale price	▲ X.X% vs. last year	XX days median on market	X.XX% 30-yr fixed
---------------------------------------	--------------------------------	------------------------------------	-----------------------------

The read: [One or two plain-English sentences on what the numbers mean for a buyer and a seller this month — written fresh each issue from live MLS + Freddie Mac data. No jargon, no spin.]

NEIGHBORHOOD SPOTLIGHT

St. Elmo — life at the foot of the mountain

If you want to know whether you'd love St. Elmo, stand on a porch on a summer evening and look up: Lookout Mountain fills the whole sky. This is one of Chattanooga's oldest streetcar suburbs, and it still moves at a streetcar pace — neighbors on porches, the Incline Railway clanking up the hillside, a Saturday line out the door at Mean Mug. The housing stock is the draw: turn-of-the-century cottages and bungalows, the occasional restored Victorian, on flat, walkable, tree-lined streets that run right up to the trailheads.

WHO IT SUITS

Outdoor people, walkable-life seekers, character-home lovers who don't need new construction.

THE TRADE-OFFS

Older homes mean older systems; tight inventory; you pay for the walkability and the view.

Price character (fill at publish): entry bungalows around $[band], restored/larger homes $[band]+. Pull current St. Elmo medians from MLS.

MORTGAGE MINUTE · SPONSORED BY LOOKOUT LENDING (SAMPLE PLACEMENT)

A rate lock isn't free insurance — it's a bet on timing. If you're under contract and rates are jumpy, a 30–45 day lock protects your monthly payment from a bad week. If you're 60+ days out, ask about a "lock-and-shop" or a float-down option before you pay for a long lock. [Sponsor-written, clearly labeled; The Move's editorial never recommends a specific lender.]

THREE LISTINGS WORTH A LOOK · SAMPLE LISTINGS

The starter with good bones

[Highland Park · 2BR bungalow · ~$XXX,000] — Walkable to the brewery district; needs a kitchen but the porch is the whole point.

The move-in-ready family home

[Ooltewah · 4BR new build · ~$XXX,000] — Garage, yard, top school zone; trade character for square footage.

The splurge with a view

[Lookout Mountain · 3BR · ~$XXX,000] — You're paying for the overlook. Worth a Sunday drive even if it's a stretch.

Listings are curated by us, not paid placements — agents can sponsor a clearly-marked "Featured Listing" slot separately (below).

NEW IN TOWN

Just landed in Chattanooga? Two things to do in week one: (1) set up EPB — the city-owned utility runs one of the fastest residential fiber networks in the country, so gigabit internet is genuinely a perk of moving here, not a luxury; (2) sort your Hamilton County vehicle registration and check your address's school zone before you fall in love with a house — zones don't always follow the neighborhood line you'd expect.

FEATURED AGENT · SPONSORED (SAMPLE PLACEMENT)

[Agent Name], [Brokerage] — "[One-line value prop: e.g., 'St. Elmo born-and-raised, 40+ closings on the mountain.']" [Headshot · contact · CTA button]

The Chattanooga Move

Free because sponsors pay — and we label every placement. The opposite model from our ad-free sister publication, The Scenic City Insider. Both from Brief Scout Media.

Forward to a friend who's house-hunting →

Subscribe · Advertise / sponsor a slot · Submit a listing